Diamonds and Legion Play Draw Game

Scores 2 to 2 in Final Game Of Bennett Shield

During the past week the finals in the Bennett Shield was reared in the local football district.

By defeating the Brick and Coal here last Friday the Diamond D's went into the finals with the Legion on Tuesday evening and after a desperate struggle at the finish succeeded in pulling out with a draw of 2 goals each. From the spectators' point of view this game furnished all the thrills, disappointments and encouragements known to the game, and the supporters of both teams had their share of all three. In the first half the Legion had all the breaks and a few occasions it looked as though each of their players was packing a rabbit's foot, but the Diamond backs and goals were right there with football feet and did the necessary. As a result the Legion was held well in check and the period ended scoreless.

In the opening of the second period, however, it was different. Within fifteen minutes the Legion had scored two goals. With two goals up the Legion for the next ten or fifteen minutes put up a most flagrant display of killing time by kicking the ball out of bounds on every occasion. And just here we might say that it is our humble opinion that is what lost them the game. If they had kept on playing football their chances were good for scoring as many goals as their opponents for the balance of the game. But they didn't. This had the effect of making the Diamonds get down to scoring business which they did in real style. For the balance of the game their onslaught on the Legion goal was such that we lost track of the number of shots they showered in on McDonald, who got all but two of them, and the second of which was just within two minutes of the final whistle, and tied the score.

The game last Friday evening between the two Redcliff teams in the semi-final, was in keeping with the brand of football these two teams always put up from the point of interest, enthusiasm, excitement and a good friendly game. Although the Diamonds won out by 1 to 0 they had a stiff fight for it. Every inch of the way, and the splendid rally of the Brick & Coal leads towards the close of the game won for them the praise and admiration of the supporters of both teams. Indeed many of the fans for their opponents expressed the opinion that their play entitled them to a draw.

Legion Annual Picnic Was Great Success

A Full Afternoon Program of Sports and Games

It was a jolly lot of both young and old who attended the Legion annual picnic yesterday afternoon. The threatening skies which appeared shortly before the hour arranged for the departure to Central Park, Medicine Hat, where the picnic was held, cleared up just in time, and the rain in the evening stayed off long enough for all to get safely home. As a result the weather did not mar the success of the outing in any way, and the lengthy program prepared was carried out most satisfactorily, furnishing all kinds of amusement for young and old.

Besides a full list of foot races for the children, games of various kinds were played in which the older picnicers took part most enthusiastically. Among these the softball game between the married and single was probably the most popular, and interesting. It will be a wonder if some of the players are not recruited by the Red Caps. The game ended in a draw, of 11 runs each but it is rumored the game will be protested owing to what is claimed were some raw decisions by Ump. Allison.

On the whole the afternoon was a great success and the committee wishes to extend their thanks to all who provided cars and trucks and in any other way contributed to the success of the event.

The following were the winners in the foot races:

Girls 3 years—M. Gordon, J. Balmer, M. Moore.

Boys 3 years—R. Leppard, J. Hope, H. Obeor.

Girls 5 years—M. Gordon.

Boys 5 years—G. Hulbert, R. Leppard, J. Balmer.

Girls 7 years—S. Martin, B. Balmer, M. Gordon.

Boys 7 years—E. Martin, J. Obeor, G. Hope.

Girls 10 years—M. Fairhurst, and tied the score.

Town Council Holds A Quiet Session

Instructions Given To Have Watering Bylaw Enforced

At the meeting of Council held last Monday councillor Shaw was appointed deputy mayor for the next three months.

The finance committee referred some relief bills to council for approval. Council was unanimous of opinion that men who had been getting work be not given any more direct relief. They were also of the opinion that men who would not accept work be taken off relief list.

The unsatisfactory condition of the McNaughton building on Broadway was brought to attention of council and instructions were given that Mr. McNaughton be advised that if the building were not repaired at once it would be ordered closed.

Secretary J. E. Tarrant asked for two weeks holidays to begin August 15th. The request was granted.

The question of citizens disregarding the bylaw regulating the hours for using water for garden purposes was discussed and instructions given the citizens be notified that the bylaw will be enforced rigidly in future. This was deemed necessary as some difficulty was experienced in keeping the tank full to provide a sufficient reserve in case of fire.

F. O. McLean, of Lethbridge, is a business visitor in town today.

Mrs. D. Karr and daughter Miss Anna, arrived in town last week and will reside here in future.

Mrs. A. J. Nicholson and family, of Calgary, are at present visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Lavelle.

Miss Pow of the Medicine Hat hospital staff, is spending her holidays in town with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Pow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cooke and family are enjoying a motor trip through the mountains this week.

Complete Departmental Examination Results

The following is the complete results of the department examinations in the high school:

Passed All Units:
1. Irene Buchholz; 2. Jean Mohre; 3. Margaret Pow; 4. Phyllis Sanderson; 5. Jean Paterson; 6. Anie Shaw; 7. Leonard Lutton; 8. Jim Lowens; 9. Robt. Buchholz; 10. Lillian Lenning; 11. Sam Fulton; 12. Mack Martin; 13. John Soukup.

Failed in One Unit:
Dan Jensen, (History of Literature) Helen Rose, Ruth Pow, Elizabeth Pailie, Louise Smith, Margaret Johnson, Margaret Rutherford, (All in History).

Outstanding features of the examinations this year were the exceptionally high marks obtained by the grade XII students: the 100 per cent. paper of Irene Buchholz in trigonometry; the 98 per cent. paper of Robt. Buchholz in Algebra; and the fact that there were no failures this year in any subject taught by the principal in any of the grades, thus establishing a new high school record of 100 per cent. passes.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

Since the results of the departmental examinations have been announced principal King is enjoying a very pleasant experience for the first time in his teaching career; an experience which few in any high school teachers are seldom if ever privileged to enjoy.

Mr. King has the proud distinction of having a hundred per cent. passes in all the subjects which he taught in the high school. The Review doubts if there is another high school in the province with such a record.

While Mr. King is naturally elated over this record he is not backward in giving considerable credit to the pupils whom he says were most satisfactory students.

The Review extends hearty congratulations to both the principal and the pupils.

Elkwater Lake is Popular Resort

Opportunity For Legislation To Make Improvements

Elkwater Lake has been a most popular summer resort this season for people of this district for many miles around. There are an exceptionally large number from Redcliff holidaying there this season. Indeed it looked as though half the town was out there last Sunday.

Several improvements in the shape of accommodation and amusement have been provided during the past few years but these have been largely due to individual enterprise on the part of those interested.

Much yet would be done to make the resort more attractive but since it is now largely under provincial control as a provincial park reserve it appears only reasonable to expect the provincial government to do something along these lines as the resort serves a very extensive territory.

On his return from a visit to the old country Premier Brownlee was most enthusiastic in his advocacy of the development of beauty spots through the province.

His government has a glorious opportunity of doing something along this line at Elkwater Lake. Private enterprise has gone about as far as can be expected. Conditions have now about reached the stage at this resort of "what's everybody's business is nobody's business," and when things reach that stage it becomes a question of leadership in going any further. The only reasonable leadership now should come from the provincial National Resources department at Edmonton.

However there is one thing we noticed which might be done locally—and especially by those interested in the resort—and that is that artistic plain signs be placed at every turn in the road for the guidance of strangers going to the lake.

Miss Janet Paterson left this week for Taber to visit friends. Ted Osgood of Medicine Hat spent Tuesday in town visiting friends.

Why the Alarm About water Supply

This Question Now Being Asked By The Citizens.

At the council meeting last Monday some of the councillors appeared to be very fearful lest in case of fire there would not be sufficient water in the tank to take care of such an emergency. This fear was followed by instructions that in future the water bylaw would be strictly enforced, and the next day town officials went from house to house warning the householders.

Naturally this sudden action started people to ask questions about to enquire "why this sudden alarm?" Some of the questions asked are very interesting and make one think that this scare is a case of "much ado about nothing."

"How is it," people are asking "that a few years ago when the rolling mill, ornamental factory, shoe factory, glass factory, greenhouse and three brick plants were all running thousands of gallons of water pastour door every minute not the equipment at the pump station is as good as it ever was. Only a few months ago considerable expense and labor was put on it to guard against—as we were told at the time—just such an emergency. And yet it is claimed the supply of water is not equal to the demand. It looks as though there is something wrong some place."

While it must be admitted that provision must be made for cases of fire, yet if at all possible an effort should be made to try to solve the problem of giving all the water possible to the gardens and grounds during this extremely hot weather. A little extra water now might save the town some relief expense a few months hence.

It is pretty hard to sit still and watch garden stuffs and lawns burning up after people have gone to the trouble and expense of trying to provide for the winter and to beautify the town, especially when a little water from that endless supply which is passing by our back door, would solve the problem. Nothing else but water will do it in the kind of weather we have been having lately.

Empire's Brains on Empire's Best Ship

British Government delegates to the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa photographed aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain, who held a Cabinet Council on the ship, in event unique in maritime or government annals. Seated left to right, they are: Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, M.P., Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Lord President of the Council; Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Dominions Secretary; Rt. Hon. Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, Colonial Secretary; Rt. Hon. Sir John Gilmour, Minister of Agriculture; and Rt. Hon. Lord Hallam, Secretary of State for War.

Running well ahead of schedule steel work for the 22-story addition to the Empire's largest hotel, the Royal York, additional construction is being rapidly pushed forward and the sixth story is now completed. All work on the arrival of the ship is finished early in February and everything will be completed by June 1st, when there will be a total of 1,841 guest rooms at this palatial Toronto hostelry.

Putting a 15-mile an hour clip, a special Canadian Pacific train recently carried two-and-a-half-carloads of this steel, which was thought to be doing its initial laps, from the factory to Toronto, for a short installation in the Toronto Western Hospital. Leaving at 1:03 the train reached destination at 2:15, all traffic having been held aside for the special. At 8 the construction was performed and an hour later the top was sprung and it's friends. It's now well on its way to recovery.

Fighting against Atlantic winter who the cable ship John W. Maclean has just successfully completed another epic of the seas is effecting repairs to the high speed cable of the Commercial Cable Company over which much Canadian Pacific cable business is carried to Europe. Ten cables are stranded in the great gulch of November 11, the break being discovered within 24 hours of the arrival of the ship on the scene, raising the cable from a depth of 1,000 fathoms to a point 80 miles from the western end of the break being part of the

Memorial To Peary

Towering Stone Pillar Will Be Erected in Arctic

There is something appealing in the undertaking to erect on an Arctic promontory a monument to Admiral Peary, discoverer of the North Pole. This memorial will take the form of a towering pillar of native stone, capped by a crown of native seals, which will throw back the rays of the Arctic sun and serve as a daylight beacon to other adventurous souls who have the perils of the farthest North.

This monument will be in keeping with the rugged nature of the main whose memory it perpetuates in the wild scenery with which he made the world familiar. Again and again this intrepid explorer found his way toward the northward end of the earth, only to be forced back by obstacles presented by nature. Finally, in 1906, Peary reached the pole, the objective of so many brave men. One after another of his companions turned back, and when the Admiral arrived at the goal of his ambitions he was accompanied by only four Eskimos and one negro servant. Truly a strange company in a range and awe-inspiring spot.

But Peary had made history, and contributed enormously to the world's fund of scientific knowledge. At his most northerly point of the world the explorer and his companions stood a spot where, wherever direction they looked, they were facing south. It is fitting that the monument to such a man should be placed among the grim mountains of Northern Greenland—Toronto Star.

Solves One Problem

Cleveland Woman Revives Old Barter and Exchange Plan

A programme of exchange, something of a revival of the ancient principle of barter and exchange, is being carried out at Cleveland.

Mrs. Ethel Stanford-Melling, a photographer, is the sponsor and initiator of the plan. She has a number of friends who are willing to exchange their services or merchandise for something they need but haven't the cash to buy.

According to Mrs. Melling's plan, the exchange may work two or three ways. A dentist may give his services to a dressmaker to have a gown for his wife in even exchange, or the dentist may want shoes, or the shoe dealer a dress for his wife, and the dressmaker dental services.

Registrars include a physician, architect, ministers, jewellers, a hotel, a concert pianist, tailors, garage, construction companies and electrical repair concerns.

One Was Enough

Old Nurse Warned Neville Chamberlain Against Entering Politics

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, is found of telling this story about himself.

As a young man, fresh from college, he was one day accosted by his old nurse, who asked him with almost motherly solicitude what vocation he intended to follow.

"Well, nanine," he replied, "I'm thinking of going in for politics."

"Oh, Master Neville, dear, don't do it," she exclaimed. "Neville, one in the family is enough to have in politics, and Master Austen is that one. Don't you follow his bad example. Go in for something that's useful—and honest."

An Old Death Warrant

Document Signed In Seventeenth Century Treasoned By Judge

A 250-year-old document bearing an alleged "warrant" to death by hanging, is held by Justice H. Mott, generalist, at Springfield, Missouri.

The document is signed by Cotton Mather, seventeenth century "witch-chaser" in New England, and bears a date in June, 1682. It also bears the seal of the province and of the crown, and the signature of William Phillips, who at that time was governor of Massachusetts.

The paper sets forth proceedings in the trial of Martha Carver, said to have been in communication with witches. The specific charges against the woman were that she caused the death of "several fowls and swine."

A sentence of death by hanging was meted out to the woman by the document, which directed that the execution take place on the same day the paper was read in public.

Mould that although belief in witchcraft dwindled toward the end of the seventeenth century, a man in America was tried on charges of being a witch as late as 1835.

Study Plant and Animal Life

Illinois Professor Goes North For Research Work In Barren

Prof. Victor B. Shelford, Ph.D., Department of Zoology, University of Illinois, has arrived at Churchill, Manitoba, to make a study of small animal life and plant formations of the sub-Arctic. He is accompanied by his son John Shelford, student of engineering, University of Illinois. This is Prof. Shelford's second season in the north. Last year he made a study of the plant growth of the tundra, starting with the minute growths in the north and ending up to the redoubt moose, head and sage.

On this trip, the scientist will study the cycles and abundance of rodents, such as the lemmings, that mousethe like animal that changes color from black to white in the fall.

His study was made that about 90 per cent. of life on the "Barren" is composed of life of various kinds including mosquitoes, while in other districts the population of small, minute life would be equally divided between insects, true bugs, beetles, wasps and bees.

San Marino Proud Of New Railroad

Tiny Mountain Republic Now Served By Electric Train

San Marino, the smallest republic in the world, is proud of its new railroad. It is only twenty miles long, but the miniature will tell you that there are shorter ones. The republic itself is only thirty-two square miles in area.

From the middle of the fourth century, when San Marino was founded, to this time the only way to reach the tiny mountain republic was by steep roads. Now much of the traffic will be diverted to the new electric railroad.

It took three years to build the twenty-mile road, which came to realization in the words of the Captains-General of the republic—"haste to the 'harmonious resolution of the two Fascist governments of Italy and San Marino.'"

Sarcasm Was Wasted

Enthusiastic Pupil Took Singing Lesson At His Word

The famous musician, Sir Henry Wood, tells the following good story about a lady who went to a friend of his, a well-known singing master, and said she wanted her voice trained.

She explained that she was in a hurry, as she was going abroad in a week or two, and would be pleased to start teaching her at once. "I want," she said, "twenty-five lessons before I sail."

"That is quite impossible, madam," replied the master. "You cannot hurry the voice."

"Why not?" demanded the lady. "I can take two lessons a day."

"Perhaps," he suggested bitingly, "you would like to take the whole twenty-five lessons right on end, one after the other?"

"Splendid!" exclaimed the lady, delightedly. "When shall we start?"

Item For Ripley

Six-year-old Robert Reynolds, of Chatham, Ontario, wanted to catch a fish. He was without the conventional rod and line, so he did the next best thing. He waded into the stream, saw the fish he wanted, chased it into shallow water, and nonchalantly emerged a moment later with a struggling two foot trout grasped firmly in his tiny hands.

Strange Race Of Pygmies

Inhabitants With Or Papuan And Are Very Strong

The strange tale of pygmies with golden hair, and their bizarre habits of living was told when the Lieutenant-Governor of Papua, New Guinea, made his annual report to the Australian Government.

These platinum blonde pygmies which inhabit the wilds of Papua are cannibals, states the Lieutenant-Governor, but he is not sure of the error, because the rugged nature of the country forces them to eat.

The pygmies are about four and a half feet in height, of extraordinary strength, and their language is like the chattering of parrots.

When human food is not to be procured, they will eat anything. Pygmy delicacies consist of frogs, prawns and beetles.

These weird little cannibals bury their dead in a cage set fast from the ground, and have mastered a method of embalming unknown to the white race.

Making Tunnels Safe

"Temple Machine" Detects Obstructions and Marks Exact Spot

Tunnels are of varying heights and widths, but all of them come within the scope of the standard gauge of the various railways, which range from 13ft. to 13ft. 6ins. in height and from 8ft. to 8ft. 6ins. in width. It is the business of the "Hedgehog," "Temple Machine," which is used by tunnelers, to detect any obstructions which would jeopardize the safety of trains passing through.

The "Temple Machine" is a curious-looking vehicle with spikes radiating in all directions. These spikes are pushed into the earth with the interior of the vehicle, so that should any obstruction be met with in passing through the tunnel the exact spot is indicated. This vehicle also ensures that the necessary clearance is obtained between the vehicle and the track by means of protruding plates fixed to a frame and also electrically connected with the interior of the van.

Canadians Are Fond Of Prepared Cereals

Consumed Nearly Six Million Dollars Worth During 1930

Canadians are very fond of prepared breakfast cereals and according to latest recent statistics consumed nearly 36,000,000 worth of such prepared cereals in 1930. This was in addition to large quantities of old-fashioned porridge made out of oatmeal and rolled oats. Exports of Canadian manufactured breakfast cereals in 1930 amounted to nearly two and half million dollars while imports were valued at around one-quarter of a million dollars.

Northern Wireless Service

In order to keep the northern area in touch with the outside world the Dominion Government maintains wireless stations at Fort Smith, Repulse, Rae, Simpson, Norman, Echo Bay, Alaskan, Herschel Island, Compermie and Chesterfield in the Northwest Territories. These operate in conjunction with the wireless stations at Dawson and Mayo in Yukon Territory and with that at Edmonton, Alberta.

Miss Nancy Adams, a pretty young Scotswoman, has a big job on hand, that of organizing 3,000,000 British women in industry. She is the first female officer appointed by the general council of the Trades Union Congress.

Miss Adams, daughter of a retired Glasgow professor, has spent a good deal of her life in the trade union movement. She studied at Ruskin College, Oxford, for two years. She is not in the least daunted at the prospect of having to organize over 3,000,000 of her sisters in trade union.

Appointed To British Cabinet

Lord Irwin, Former Viceroy Of India, Succeeds Sir Donald MacLellan

Lord Irwin, former viceroy of India, has been appointed president of the board of education in the British cabinet in succession to the late Sir Donald MacLellan.

Lord Irwin is a Conservative, while the late Sir Donald was a Liberal. Lord Irwin is personally extremely popular and recognized as one of the foremost statesmen of Great Britain, but his appointment will lead to some Liberal dissatisfaction.

As a member of the House of Lords, Lord Irwin naturally will not need to seek a seat in the Commons on his appointment, which was officially announced recently.

He is well used to work in the British cabinet. After a year as under-secretary for the Colonies, he became secretary of the Board of Education in 1922 and held the portfolio until the defeat of Stanley Baldwin's first Conservative Government. On the return to power of the Conservatives late in 1924, he became Minister of Agriculture, resigning a few months before he became viceroy of India.

In New Delhi, Lord Irwin gained the respect of his subjects by his sincerity of purpose, and it was mainly his sagacity and statesmanship that brought about the first round table conference in London in November, 1930. Later he was instrumental in bringing about the partition of India, and the creation of the Nationalist leader, in the second round-table conference of last year.

Lord Irwin is one of the most prominent laymen in the Church of England, deriving his ecclesiastical position from his father, the aged Viscount Halifax.

There are now 12 Conservatives in the cabinet, four National Laborites and four National Laborites.

Making Successful Commercial Traveller

Titled English Lady On Road For Process Engraving Firm

Lady Ankerel Jackson, sister of Lord Carlisle, has become a commercial traveller, the already a barrister, a journalist, and a mother. Now she has joined a process engraving firm and she is "on the road" collecting orders.

Process engraving—the making of blocks from which newspaper, magazine and advertising pictures are printed—is a highly technical job, and it was necessary for the newcomer to understand it thoroughly before talking to customers.

When she is not out chasing big business, Lady Ankerel works at a little desk in the works, among blaring lamps which flare heliograph and blue, bath of acid, and the howl of metal cutting machines. She talks of "screams" "half-tones," "the blocks" and "tints" and knows all about the sizes of printing types and other technicalities.

The buoyant strength a weary swimmer finds

Beneath him when he's worn out, he must let go

For his struggles with the waves and wind!

To float, to drift like sea-weed or a leaf

To merge with ocean, with the wind!

To let him drift, forgotten, down the river

His mind a fragment of eternity!

This is to know the Everlasting Arms,

To be uplifted into peace at length

Secure against all tempests and all storms

Safe in the shelter of unfailing strength

Unhindered all his angry winds and waves

To be relaxed in Love that soothes and saves!

Install Rain Gauges

Records Available To All Organizations Or Individuals Interested

Three hundred and fifty more rain gauges will be set up in the prairie provinces according to a statement given by the Sears Grain Company, of Winnipeg, through H. G. L. Strang, of the research department.

Following the meteorological conference held in Winnipeg early this year the meteorological branch at Ottawa approved the recommendation for enlarged equipment of this nature but economy measures made purchases and installation impossible.

With the approval of the Dominion Department the Sears Grain Company have had manufactured 250 additional gauges. There will be now a rain gauge at every Sears elevator in the three prairie provinces, and a total of 120 in addition to those already operated by the meteorological service of the Dominion.

Emphasis is laid on the fact that information from records obtained is available to every organization or individual interested and is in no way to be considered a private enterprise in this respect.

Origin Of The Mace

Symbol Of Authority Was Once a Popular Weapon

The mace, now a symbol of authority for the Speaker of the House of Commons, Lord Mayors, Mayors and other dignitaries, was originally a popular weapon. It was favored by the warlike clergy, to whom the sword was forbidden. Then its use was confined to the Crusaders, where it was used to arm their guards with maces as the most convenient weapons to combat the attack of Assassins. The Assassins—or Hashashins—were members of a fanatical Eastern sect who depicted themselves with the cross and the hammer.

After the Crusades, the mace was retained by the followers of kings and princes and so became the symbol of authority as we now know it. The British House of Commons, by the way, is the third to be used in Great Britain. The first disappeared after the execution of Charles I; the second, the "bible" which Cromwell ordered to be removed, passed through various hands and is understood now to be in a museum at Kingston, Jamaica.

Evidence of the growing popularity of the Canadian Pacific Railway low rate has led to a return, inaugurated this year, was again furnished by the success of the Quebec, Montreal and Montreal excursion to Toronto and Niagara Falls, June 17, when no fewer than 1,500 Quebecers took the trip to their fishing and pleasure grounds. The Mayor of Toronto issued a hearty welcome to those making the trip.

The thirty-two business and professional men and women from the British Isles now touring British Columbia and prairie provinces, are expected to arrive in Victoria on their way to the coast and to the interior of the province. They are particularly impressed by the beauty of the forested mountains at some of the houses they inspected and by the Canadian Pacific Railway.
